A Generation Gives Way March for Life 2015

We came by the thousands. By some estimates, over a half million. A time to be solemn? Yes. We mourned the 57 million lives lost; we mourned the regrets of abortive mothers and fathers.

But we also came filled with joy, hope and exuberance. As the streets of Washington D.C. became a sea of millennials and younger, it was clear -- the generation which rabidly embraced abortion, which bought into all of its lies, was giving way to a new generation which sees the truth about life and is not afraid to proclaim it! A generation “wanting life and love, wanting something better than the culture of death we have gotten used to and at times doubled down on.” (Kathryn Lopez, Nat'l Review)

The March for Life has become more than a rally. It has become a sign of great hope!

A cold, but sunny, start to the day.

For a brief period, our Children's Pro-Life banner flew high, until gusty winds threatened to take it, and its carriers, airborne!

A little popcorn for mid-march nourishment.

Cold? Who's cold?!

A familiar friend warmly greets our group, Senator Rick Santorum.

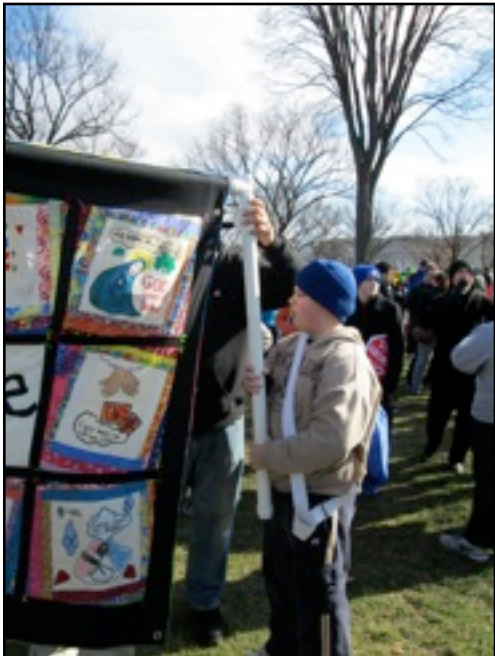

The paparazzi pursue Fr. Pasley for an EWTN interview.

Bishop Sullivan with Diocesan Life & Justice Coordinator Mike Laskey meet our group at the corner of Constitution Ave & (naturally!) New Jersey Ave.

OUR PRO-LIFE GENERATION!

Here's someone who "bearly" felt the cold.

"Can I ski back to the bus?"

Warm, at last!

NJ Right to Life is New Jersey's premier pro-life organization. Whether it's in the legislative halls in Trenton, on college campuses, on the airways or in print or social media, this organization works relentlessly on behalf of human life, from conception to natural death.

This year's banquet features Andrea Tantaros, political analyst and co-host of The Five and Outnumbered on the Fox News Channel. James O'Keefe is an investigative journalist and filmmaker, Founder of Project Veritas, and a Rutgers Alumnus.

Early bird registration by March 17 for individuals is $90. We will try to organize a car-pool for those interested in attending but are reluctant to drive to New Brunswick. For more details, contact Tracye at 856-770-8488.
